Let _____, having shown [himself | herself] worthy, come now before Their Highnesses.

(Person called comes and kneels.)

 Prince: _____, We have seen that you are worthy to bear Our standard in war. Will you accept the task of maintaining Our banner and carrying it in battle, whether at Our side or at Our command?

Banner Bearer: I will, Your Highness.

 Prince: Then We appoint you Our Banner Bearer, and entrust to you Our banner, so that all may know Our presence upon the battlefield. Keep it for Us until We depart Our thrones.

(Prince and Banner Bearer exchange words as needed.)

Herald: For _____, Banner Bearer of the Mists, Hip, Hip!
