Herald: In the reign of King Hagen, Ruth, His Queen, determined to find means to honor those in the Kingdom who had been exceptional in gracious behavior. As was the custom in those days, it was not within Her power to grant Awards of Arms, for that was the prerogative of Her Lord the King. Therefore did She, as a sign of the favor of the Queen, establish the Queen's Order of Grace. And the sign of the order is a pendant in the form of a crowned rose with a pearl pendant from it; and it is given by the Queen to those who she finds thoughtful of all in the Kingdom, dignified in carriage, and gracious in spirit and in thought.

Therefore, does Her Majesty call before Her this day, _____, to become a Companion of the Queen's Order of Grace.

(The recipient shall come forward and kneel before the Queen, who shall present the pendant and shall say:)
